WELCOME

During these trying times of COVID restriction we all have to adapt and our books are our contribution to all those affected moms, dads and school aged children that are adapting to the New Normal.

Increasing Intelligence

Based on our brain teaser and logic puzzle experience, we have attempted to bring together learning concepts that focus on clarity and repetition for success. According to the "Science of Smart" (also available on Amazon):

"Intelligence is not a thing as much as it is a process. Intelligence involves gathering information and actively using it to understand your world".

So intelligence can be developed with training, such as what we have tried to do with this Workbook. Although forms of intelligence may overlap, areas of focus in this book include:

- 1. Quantitative & Symbolic Reasoning: Used for working with numbers, science and financial matters.
- 2. Motor Intelligence: Used for coordinating movements and activities, including math computations; Workbook elements include repetition, challenge and randomness to develop muscle memory of the mind for mastery of familiar activities with ease.
- 3. Practical Intelligence: Used for daily activities and accomplishing things including evaluating risks and identifying opportunities. Workbook elements include problems with real-world applications.

Progress Tracking

As part of the above process we include Progress Trackers in our books as feedback mechanisms, to allow you not only to chart changes over time of a student's success, but also as a means of identifying areas that require further attention and development. Additional Progress Tracking sheets specific to this book are available for download from www.KewlActiveMinds.com

Feedback Appreciated

We try to be responsive to the needs and interest of our readers and not work in a vacuum, so we would appreciate reviews on AMAZON, good, bad or otherwise, and we will try to learn and adapt our materials accordingly. If you have any specific questions you can reach us on social media, Twitter and Facebook, or use the contact form on our website.
